

NU SKIN WEBSITE COOKIE NOTICE

Nu Skin uses cookies and other data collection technologies for certain areas of our website.

A cookie is a small piece of data sent from our website and stored on your computer that helps to personalize your web experience. It helps our website remember information about your visit, such as your preferred language, so that you do not have to enter this information again the next time you visit the same website. Some cookies ensure that the graphics on a website appear correctly, while others make sure a website application works properly.

Cookies vary in their purpose and duration. For instance, cookies may be required for the website to work or to provide functionality and performance, while some provide us with information about your browsing history or how long you stay on a page. Additionally, some cookies can be first party cookies (sent by Nu Skin) or third party (sent by other companies).

The section below describes in detail the categories of cookies that we use on our website and the reason for which we use them:

Category of Use	Example
Security	We use security cookies during login to authenticate your user name and password, to prevent the fraudulent use of your login credentials and to protect your data from unauthorized users. For example, JSESSION is a cookie created with the user session to ensure a secure user experience.
Preferences	We use preference cookies to remember information about the way you would like the site to work, such as when you select a preferred language, so that you do not have to enter this information again the next time you visit the same website. They may also be used for website functionality such as to remember your login details. For example, we use the LANGUAGE cookie to save the language of the user that was chosen when first visiting the site. The COUNTRY_CODE cookie will save the Market that was initially chosen.
Processes	Process cookies deliver the basic functionality necessary to make the features of our site work as you expect, such as providing secure log-in or remembering how far you are through an order. Without these cookies normal website actions cannot function. For example, the NUSKIN.SHOP.CART cookie allows us to keep buying and shipping information in our shopping cart in order for the user to maintain these across pages on the site.

Advertising	We use advertising cookies to show you ads that are more relevant to you. These cookies may allow you to share certain pages with social networks. For example, the USER_PROFILE_MIN_INFO cookie collects data on the user that allows relevant products to be presented to the user.
Session State	We use session state cookies to collect information about how you interact with our website in a browser session. This can be information such as your page visit frequency or whether there are error messages from certain pages. This information helps us to improve our website. You may turn these cookies off and the site will still be usable although it will limit our ability to monitor the website for future performance improvements. An example of a session state cookie we use is the LOGGEDIN cookie. This indicates that the user is logged into the website and is deleted when the browser is closed.
Analytics	We use analytics cookies to better understand the ways in which users experience our website. These cookies may collect website usage statistics or be used in conjunction with other advertising cookies to show you ads that are more relevant to you. For example, the GA_ cookie is the Google Analytics tool used to analyze the use of the site for improvements and functionality.
